ELDRED, Pa., May 14.—Five unmasked gunmen held up the First National Bank at Eldred, Pa., and escaped today with loot estimated by bank officials at from $5,000 to $6,000.

An alarm sounded as the bandits fled in a sedan in the direction of Kane sent state motor police and officers from surrounding McKean county communities out to block all highways.

No one was injured in the swift attack.

"They didn't get the vault," E. I. Seglind, cashier of the bank, told International News Service.

"We do not know exactly how much is missing, but the men got the cash from only one window."

Scoops Up Cash

While one gunman vaulted over the counter and scooped up the cash from the window tended by "Elder" Frederik Loop, another held up Seglind and the bank's president, E. E. Drake, in the directors' room, Seglind said.

"He told us not to move," he said. "We didn't. The whole thing couldn't have taken more than three minutes."

Seglind said there were two or three customers in the bank, Loop and one other teller, William Muir, himself and Drake, when the men entered.

The commotion drew outsiders' attention to the bandit car and bystanders noted the license number — Pennsylvania 6-U-055 — Seglind added.

PA NEW C OBSERVES

According to tradition the straw hat season is formally ushered in on May 15, which in the present year, is tomorrow.

There is some evidence to be seen around the city and district of effects of the heavy frosts during the past week. Some types of plants in flower gardens were seriously damaged by the frosts.

Steady increase is to be noted in construction of new homes in the city and environs, a considerable number of new residents having been started in the past few weeks.

Two weeks from Friday will be the annual Memorial Day.

Formal application has been made for the state's permission to replace street car lines in the city with bus lines. It is to be hoped that action will be speeded, so that something can be done towards fixing the surface of some of the streets of the city. East Washington street, for example, is badly in need of repairing, and it is probable that nothing will be done until it is definitely decided whether the trolleys are to be replaced.

Before Flight Of Hess

LEFT TO RIGHT, HESS, CIANO, HITLER, MUSSOLINI

Flight of Rudolf Hess, Nazi party leader and No. 2 Nazi in line of succession to Adolf Hitler's dictatorial post, is the talk of the world. Hess flew a commandeered Nazi fighter plane from Augsburg, Germany, and landed by parachute near Glasgow, Scotland, where he is held by the British. Speculation was rife as to the "why" of the fantastic flight of Hitler's most trusted lieutenant. Among theories advanced are that Hess quarreled with Hitler; he is a victim of "hallucinations" as claimed by the Nazis; he brought peace proposals to Britain; it was the beginning of a Nazi party breakup; he was marked for a "purge."

Ambridge Man Is Fugitive From Beaver Co. Jail

Serving As Trusty, Makes Escape Over Wall At Jail Last Night

(International News Service)
BEAVER, Pa., May 14.—Beaver county police officers and Pennsylvania motor police were searching today for George Pushkar, 27-year-old Ambridge dealer who escaped from the county jail last night while awaiting trial on charges of embezzling $12,000 in fake automobile sales.

Pushkar, a trusty, put an eight-foot ladder on top of a rubbish heap and escaped over the jail's 20-foot fence. Warden Percy Edgar explained. He said he had made Pushkar a trusty a week ago, because "we were short of men and we couldn't trust a lot of these kids in jail."

District Attorney Robert E. McCreary and a detective made a special trip to California a month ago to bring Pushkar back to Beaver county for trial. He had fled shortly after disclosure of a scheme to obtain finance money on new cars in the names of non-existent purchasers, Edgar said.

The fugitive was described as 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing 170, with brown hair and eyes, brown sweater and brown trousers.

Sees Coup D'Etat To Overthrow Hitler By Nazis

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 14.—Otto Strasser, one of the original founders of the Nazi party, and now leader-in-exile of the anti-Hitler "black front," today expressed the view that Rudolf Hess made his dramatic flight from Germany to Scotland to stage off an impending military coup d'etat to overthrow Chancellor Hitler.

Strasser, who has known Hess for 20 years, does not believe that the chancellor's deputy fled to the British Isles to betray his fuhrer.

Motion pictures, addresses, entertainment and dancing, all of them have a place in the program and this year the entire evening is free to the public. In former years there has been a dinner served but eating took too much of the time needed for entertainment, so eating this year is out.

Reverse Action On Devaluation Bill

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The House of Representatives today reversed its previous action and voted 13 to 6 to approve a bill extending the president's powers to devalue the dollar without an amendment pegging the price of gold.

The committee yesterday adopted an amendment limiting the price the president could pay for gold at $35 an ounce. This provision, however, was stricken out today after a heated executive session. Members said the 13 to 6 roll call followed party lines with Democrats opposing the amendment and Republicans supporting it.

As now approved, the bill will extend for two years life of the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund and the president's monetary powers. Without congressional action the fund would terminate June 30.

May Delay Showdown In Senate On Convoys

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 14.—The senate anti-convoy bloc was called into secret session today to consider postponement of a showdown fight on proposals to prohibit use of the navy to convoy munitions to Britain as congressional friends and foes of the administration's foreign policy demanded that President Roosevelt take the public into his confidence on the aid-democracy program.

The meeting was ordered as some non-interventionists voiced the opinion that it would be unwise to press for adoption of the Tobey "rider" to the bill authorizing requisition of foreign ships in U. S. harbors, which would prohibit the president from ordering convoys.

United In Opposition
The non-interventionists, it was explained, are united in their opposition to use of the navy to foil the German submarine and air menace to British ships. They argued only the question of method and strategy in pressing their attack.

Sen. Tobey, (R) N. H., vigorous foe of war is expected to urge his fellow non-interventionists to rally behind his proposed amendment which will be considered today.

The overwhelming fear of the anti-convoy senators advocating a delay in the fight was that they may be defeated, and that Mr. Roosevelt would construe the vote as an endorsement of convoys if he sees fit to order them.

May Modify Plans
Alternatives under discussion are to modify the Tobey amendment by either declaring that congress opposes convoys or demanding that the president submit the issue to congress.

Berlin Still Claims Hess Had Obsession

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, May 14.—An ambitious "illusion"—belief that he could fly to Britain and bring back a peace agreement to the Reich—was credited to Rudolf Hess by the German government today.

An official announcement stated examination of Hess' documents revealed he planned to fly to the Duke of Hamilton in Scotland and then appeal to Britain, over the head of Prime Minister Winston Churchill, for an immediate, "common-sense" peace understanding with Germany.

Editor's note: When Hess parachuted to earth in Scotland Saturday night he landed on farmland on the estate of the Duke of Hamilton, a former member of the Anglo-German Fellowship association, an organization no longer recognized in Britain. Today's German announcement indicates Hess was at least sane enough to fly some 800 miles from Augsburg and hit his Scottish target "on the nose."

Believe Soviet-German Deal Made On "Spoils" In Middle East Area

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 14.—Informed quarters in Washington today believed that a "share-the-spoils" deal over the middle east already made has been concluded between Germany and Soviet Russia.

Under the terms of this deal, these sources, who are in close touch with developments in that part of Europe, believe Soviet Russia will move into Iran and Germany will move into Syria, either through or around Turkey.

If Turkish resistance to the German plans brings that country into armed conflict with the Nazis, it is believed Turkey will be partitioned, with Soviet Russia taking a slice of the eastern part as far down the Black Sea as Samsun in order to protect the Batum oil fields.

French Cabinet Supports Darlan

Gives Approval To Results Of Franco-German Negotiations By Vice Premier

(International News Service)
VICHY, May 14.—The French cabinet council, presided over by Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, today unanimously approved the results of Franco-German negotiations undertaken by French Vice Premier Admiral Jean Darlan.

An official communiqué said effects of the negotiations "soon will be apparent."

The cabinet approved the negotiations after Darlan explained them in a formal statement.

Action of the cabinet council followed a meeting yesterday between Petain and United States Ambassador Admiral William D. Leahy during which the subject of French neutrality in the war was understood to have been discussed.

Leahy was reported to have brought considerable pressure to bear on Petain to prevent possible French military assistance to the Reich. The question of food supplies in unoccupied France also was said to have been discussed.

Darlan returned to Vichy last night after conferring with Chancellor Hitler at Berchtesgaden and German authorities at Paris on the question of French "collaboration" with Germany in establishing a "new order" in Europe.

What concessions Darlan may have made to the Germans or received from them have not yet been officially revealed, although the communiqué's statement that effects of the negotiations soon would be apparent was deemed significant.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 14.—Work on $30,000,000 worth of machine-guns and other weapons for the United States and British governments was suspended today as an estimated 5,000 employees at the Colt's Patent Firearms Manufacturing company remained out on strike.

Mass picketing at the main plant, which sprawls for four blocks along the banks of the Connecticut river, began shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. Twenty-five Hartford policemen remained on duty in the vicinity to maintain order.

British Declare He Is Entirely Sane—Believe He Fled From "Purge"

By EARL REEVES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, May 14.—The entire medical staff of private nursing home in London was flown today to the bedside of Rudolf Hess, fugitive No. 3 Nazi chieftain, who British hopes may supply the key to victory over Nazi Germany.

While official circles continued to deprecate wild speculation about Hess' mission—particularly to the effect that his flight from Germany means a full-scale split in the Nazi regime—a few definite faces emerged from the welter of mystery.

Removed From Hospital
First, he is not in a hospital any longer, but is being held in some secret retreat on a heavily camouflaged private estate "in the depths of a nameless area."

Second, because of the very nature of his place of incarceration, no one except government officials and medical men bound to secrecy have seen him or talked to him since he dropped out of the skies Saturday night on a desolate moor near the residence of the Duke of Hamilton on the outskirts of Glasgow.

Third, the true reasons for Hess' visit may not even be fully known as yet to Prime Minister Winston Churchill himself. He is being questioned and questioned, and not until British officials are convinced of the truth will anything be said.

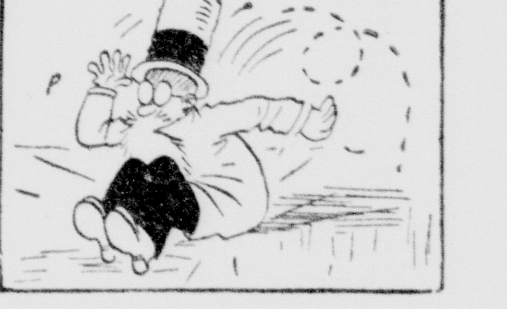

Brain Specialists Assigned
Two eminent brain specialists are among those assigned to the one-time deputy Nazi leader who was slated sometime to fill Reichsmarschall Adolf Hitler's shoes. Two other medical men, described as "king's physicians," also are on hand. Likewise there are medical attendants from the army medical corps—men who can be trusted to divulge nothing and say nothing.

Report Trouble Is Increasing

Radio Patrolman Tells Magistrate Participants Are Carrying Weapons

DISCHARGE SIX PERSONS ARRESTED

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Police and counsel for the service department workers striking at West Penn hospital agreed today that the "situation is getting serious," as six persons arrested earlier in the day were discharged in morals court.

Radio Patrolman James Thompson informed Magistrate W. D. McClelland about the situation, blaming both strikers and workers. He said trouble has increased daily since participants began carrying weapons.

Attorney Benjamin C. Sigal, counsel for the CIO-service department workers who called the strike in a dispute over wages and hours, agreed pointing out that weapons have been involved in most of the disorders so far.

Lillian Binkfield, 21, who was held as a material witness after causing the arrest of Susie Jones, Negro, 36, for an alleged attack early today, refused to testify at the morals court hearing, because "it's all my fault."

The union and the hospital named representatives as Mayor Scully pressed for a mediation settlement.

FIRE DESTROYS OAKLAND HOMES DURING NIGHT

composition shingles, and when these became heated up, made a fierce blaze, which spread in turn to the home of J. Arthur Turek, principal of the Sunny Side school and in a short time, the back end and side of the Turek home was also burning. The contents of the Turek home were carried out, while city firemen fought desperately to save the structure.

Residing in the Turek home, besides the five members of the Turek family, were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wirczinski and child. The Turek home was a duplex containing ten rooms.

Lay 2,000 Feet of Hose

Firemen succeeded in bringing the blaze in the Turek home under control at 4:30 o'clock, but for a time, it seemed as if they were fighting a losing battle, due to a lack of water pressure. It was necessary to lay around 2,000 feet of hose from the one lone fireplug in the Oakland district, located near the Madonna church, and pump the water up a steep hill to reach the blaze.

Fern street, the scene of the blaze, is the first street west of Atlantic avenue, and runs parallel to it. The homes destroyed, were the last three on the street. All were nice homes, the Cichon home having recently been modernized at considerable expense, it was stated.

While all three houses were protected by insurance, the loss is not nearly covered, it is stated. Four families have been made homeless as a result of the fire, and will have to seek shelter elsewhere. They were cared for by neighbors this morning.

ment. Hess planned to appeal to the British to make peace as the only way to avoid "destruction of the British empire."

German authorities said the documents of the former deputy chief of the Nazi party clearly show he was under the spell of this "obsession of illusion"—the idea that through his "English peace friends" he would succeed in "bringing back to Germany a peace agreement ending the war."

The Hess documents, according to informed German quarters, specify that he intended to deal only through personal friends in England and that he planned to "avoid Churchill."

(Editor's note: According to London reports, Churchill plans personally to subject Hess to a searching questioning.)

force and foreign office and intelligence units of the secret service—all hoping, in good time, to "break open" the real reason for Hess' fantastic undertaking and possibly unearth a means of destroying the regime he typifies.

"Mental Derangement" Untrue British officialdom again emphasized that German communiques attributing Hess' journey to "mental derangement" are entirely without foundation. They released a statement from one of the physicians on the scene who said:

"Hess is not unnaturally high-strung after his ordeal. But he is one of the sanest and most logical men I have ever met."

While Hess was reported spending a great deal of time in writing—possibly a complete, sensational revelation of the wartime setup of the Reich—Whitehall continually warned correspondents against "going out on a limb" with speculation, and surmises that no matter how when the full story is told, if ever. Yet the guess work continued, and the London press itself was no mere bystander in the game.

Theories Proposed

Once again came theories that Hess, fearful at one and the same time that Germany was going Bolshevik and that the British empire faced destruction, came rushing to Britain as a messiah of peace.

One source, on the other hand, said that Hess was attempting to foment an "anti-war" revolution in Germany. By proclaiming Germany's "guilt" and the "full truth" of conditions, this informant said, Hess had hoped of giving life to "another Germany" which would cooperate with Britain and the United States in the interests of a "decent peace."

The Nazi party deputy leader who startled the world by parachuting to earth in Scotland, was reported in excellent spirits despite the fact he is a heavily guarded prisoner of war, surrounded by such secrecy that only a few high officials know his exact whereabouts.

Recovering from Injury

All that has been disclosed on that point is that he is now in a hospital "somewhere in Britain." In this hideaway, it is understood, he is making "good progress" and the broken ankle he sustained in his bizarre parachute jump is responding to treatment.

Authorized British quarters insisted that the fugitive deputy leader of the Nazi party and Chancellor Hitler's No. 3 political heir is completely sane despite all German statements to the contrary.

They added that he fled to Britain because he had split with Hitler and feared he might be the victim of another "blood purge."

(Editor's Note: CBS in New York reported that the German radio kept pounding on the "insanity" theme as an explanation for Hess' flight from Germany. One German broadcast said: "The psychological and mental collapse of Reichminister Rudolf Hess is being characterized in Berlin as the regretful though unexpected result of an illness of long standing." The Nazi announcer added this illness had "become considerably worse—especially lately.")

The London Daily Mail quoted Hess as saying upon his arrival: "I have important news for Mr. Churchill."

more than a thousand population, in the northeastern corner of McKean county, almost on the Pennsylvania-New York state line.

J. Lockard, justice of the peace, was in the bank when the gunmen first entered, according to his daughter, Rita Lockard. He took one look at the men, suspected their intention and slipped out to get help, she said.

When Lockard returned he glanced in and saw the men holding drawn guns on the tellers. One of the bandits came out of the bank and forced Lockard and a companion into a garage on the opposite side of the street, Miss Lockard reported.

Segind described the man who held him and Drake at bay in the directors' room as tall, slender and about 30 years of age.

these sources believe, be preparatory to a drive through that country and Palestine to attack the Suez Canal from the European continent.

Fear of a German attack on the Ukraine and the Caucasus as well as hatred of the British is seen behind Stalin's latest deal with Hitler.

It is thought quite possible in Washington that knowledge of this deal may have been one of the factors which prompted Rudolf Hess to desert the Nazis and flee to Britain. Hess is known to have been bitterly anti-communistic.

For its part, Moscow is believed to have become convinced that the Nazis, flushed by the Balkan victory, plan to move through the European levant countries in a pincer-movement against the Suez Canal. In view of this probability, it is thought that Stalin decided to share in the spoils in order to strengthen the defense of the Caucasus.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

ATTAINING EASE IN SPEAKING.

You and I and our children could be so much more happy and likeable and could think and speak so much more clearly, comfortably and effectively in public if we conquered the fears and feelings of self-consciousness which beset us then.

For a number of years I have been studying this phenomenon and have concluded that although it may at times gild us on to greater effort, it hinders us seriously in many ways. I believe the average student in high school and college could improve his efficiency in the classroom as much as a hundred per cent if he acquired courage to feel entirely at ease as he spoke before his classmates.

Yesterday I told you of my meeting hundreds of students assemblies with a view to gain more information about these disturbing feelings in class or elsewhere and to offer a few suggestions on the cause of these fears and their gradual mastery.

I told you that after I would talk 15 or 20 minutes I was able to win the confidence of my young auditors so as to make them feel assured that no one would laugh at them when they spoke, that individual students soon would be rising from where they sat throughout the audience and volunteering a description of their emotional experiences when they tried to speak in the classroom or other groups. Whether the number of students in the assembly numbered few or thousands, individuals freely rose to testify. With but a single exception, there was such voluntary response from every one of the 250 odd assembly groups in half the states of the Union. The cause, I think, of this single exception was an austere, pompous principal who sat on the platform. I believe his very presence froze the students into silence. In one group of 75 high school seniors every member described some sort of self-consciousness which impaired his ease, comfortableness and force of expression as he tried to speak in class.

Here are a few actual samples of individual testimonies: "My hands sweat." "I get out of breath." "I shake all over." "I forget what it was I wanted to say." "Sometimes I can't hear myself talk at all." "I feel weak in my stomach." "I seem to be listening to myself talk like a machine." "I feel something might be wrong with my clothing." "I get seasick just before I have to speak." "I keep wondering as I make a book report what wisecrack the teacher is going to make when I finish." "Words won't come out." "My Adam's apple feels five times its real size." I wonder why the high

The World and the Mud Puddles

AN ENIGMA

The President's order "freezing" steel prices, is another phase of his monstrous financial policy. The President wants to spend money—a great deal of money, the amount of which no citizen of the United States can comprehend. He wants to spend it, not only for national defense, but for purposes that only destroy the nation, that breaks down the morale of citizens, both rich and poor.

The President is unwilling to encourage Capital to make money because that he needs to meet these great expenditures. At the same time he and his very busy wife Eleanor, to say nothing of Madame Perkins and other New Dealers, are encouraging Labor to ask for more and more.

Even a casual observer, would naturally be of the opinion that if the government wished to raise money with which to pay great obligations, they would encourage the citizens to make as much money as he possibly could in order that the government might receive more by way of Income Taxes.

From what reservoir does the President and his advisers believe to be taken the vast amount of money which the Congress of the United States so willingly hands over to him?

A STITCH IN TIME

Two Irishmen had staged a terrific battle one evening, with the result that each of them had to be carried home where their various wounds were attended to by a doctor. Next morning their wives met over the backyard fence to discuss the matter.

"It must have been a real fight," said Mrs. O'Toole. "Ten stitches it was the doctor had to put in me poor Pat after that old man of yours got through with him."

"Ten stitches, was it?" retorted Mrs. O'Flaherty, pulling herself up proudly. "Sure, an' that's nothing, at all, at all. When the doctor saw my poor Mike lyin' there he says, 'An' have ye got a sewin' machine about the place?'"

EXPERT EVIDENCE

Some time ago a man was charged with shooting a number of pigeons, the property of a farmer. In giving his evidence the farmer was exceedingly careful, even nervous, and the attorney for the defense endeavored to frighten him.

"Now," the lawyer remarked, "are you prepared to swear that this man shot your pigeons?"

"I didn't say he shot 'em," was the reply. "I said I suspected him of doing it."

"Ah, now we're coming to it. What made you suspect that man?"

"Well, firstly, I caught him on my land with a gun. Secondly, I heard a gun go off 'an' saw some pigeons fall. Thirdly, I found four of my pigeons in his pocket—and I don't think them birds flew there and committed suicide."

POTATO BUGS

Several farmers at a country store were talking about potato bug losses.

First Farmer: "Them bugs ate my whole crop in two weeks."

Second Farmer: "They ate my crop in two days, and then sat around on the trees and waited for me to plant more."

"Well, boys," the owner of the store broke in, "that may be so, but I'll tell you what I saw right here in my store. I saw four or five potato bugs examining my books just before planting time to see who had bought seed potatoes."

Good Taste

"What traits do you think are the most serious causes of unpopularity?" —E. W.

Answer: The traits that dominate the following classes:

Pessimists, who voice the gloomy, defeatist view when problems seriously affecting us personally or nationally are being discussed.

Pollyannas, who continually preach the gospel that everything and everyone is lovely or perfect; that you should be counting your blessings instead of worrying over a notice that you are to be sold out by the sheriff or that you must succumb to a serious major operation.

Show-offs who love the sound of their own voices and continually shoulder their way into the spotlight.

Married people who quarrel before others.

The self-righteous who harp on the fact that they have always kept themselves under control, have never done anything that they are ashamed of, have never let a bill run past the middle of the month.

Oracles, who steer every conversation into advice on how to conduct your business, invest your money, rear your children regulate your diet, guide your life.

Buck-passers who can always contrive to put responsibility and blame on others.

Know-nothings; also those who send unwelcome people to you with letters of introduction; who without forewarning bring uninvited friends to your parties; who pay you surprise visits.

Question: Must every piece of china in an entire dinner set be of matching design?—Ruth.

Answer: Hereofore sets of china had to be of matching design but present fashion is more lenient, allowing place plates, salad and dessert plates and after dinner (demitasse) coffee cups to be of designs different from the other pieces of the set used with them. Of course, if you prefer, these may all be of the same design.

Question: What do you think of buying chintz draperies and bedspread to match. Are they in good taste?—Lulu.

Answer: These are very attractive, especially in a bedroom having white woodwork and wallpaper with all-in-one design. If your paper is of the flowered variety, choose a plain color for your bedspread and draperies.

FACTS ABOUT THE BIBLE

A prisoner, condemned to solitary confinement, obtained a copy of the Bible, and, by three years' careful study obtained the following facts:

The Bible contains 3,586,489 letters, 773,692 words, 31,173 verses, 1,189 chapters, and 66 books. The word "and" occurs 46,277 times; the word "Lord" occurs 1,855 times; the word "Reverend" occurs but once.

which is in the ninth verse of the one hundred and eleventh psalm.

The twenty-first verse of the seventh chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet except the letter "j."

The finest chapter to read is the twenty-sixth chapter of the Acts of the Apostles.

The nineteenth chapter of II Kings and the thirty-seventh chapter of Isaiah are alike.

The longest verse is the ninth verse of the eighth chapter of Esther.

The shortest verse is the thirty-fifth verse of the eleventh chapter of St. John.

The eighth, fifteenth, twenty-first and thirty-first verses of the one hundredth and seventh Psalm are alike.

Each verse of the one hundredth and thirty-sixth Psalm ends alike.

There are no words or names of more than six syllables.

Here is a question that will have to be answered in this country some day: Why work for a living?

MORE VALUABLE.

"I have here a problem, William, my friend. Which is most valuable—a five dollar bill or a five dollar gold piece?"

"Let me consider, Horatio, let me consider. Ah yes, I have it, the five dollar bill. That may seem strange, but you see, when you put it in your pocket you can double it."

"Yes, truly you are wise, but also you'll find it in creases when you take it out."

An employed woman has the best chance of getting a husband today.

NEWSPAPERS ARE LIKE WOMEN

A recent college graduate in the Middle West says women and newspapers are much alike, because—

They have forms.

They always have the last word.

Back numbers are not in demand.

They are well worth looking over.

They have a great deal of influence.

You cannot believe everything they say.

They carry the news wherever they go.

Every man should have one of his own and not borrow his neighbor's.

Possibly if we had a million we'd be surprised that money could be so disappointing.

There seems to be some opposition to the banks closing all day on Saturdays during July and August. Just so they keep open some of the time will be all right with a lot of people.

What's What At A Glance

Congress Will Have Last Word On Taxes
Two Purposes Aimed At By Big Increases
Are Expected To Prevent Living Cost Rise

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 14—Federal taxes will be collected next year and probably on into near-eternity with two ends in view. One is to raise money to meet Uncle Sam's current expenses and to pay interest and a little of the principal on the debt he's been piling up by the billions recently. The other is to prevent living costs from sky-rocketing indefinitely into the heavens.

Congressman Robert L. Doughton, as chairman of the House of Representatives ways and means committee, has been doing the lion's share of heading off the problem lately, since all such legislation has to originate in the lower chamber on Capitol Hill and that committee must draft it initially, after which the whole House tinkers with it for awhile and finally passes it, maybe somewhat altered.

Chairman Pat Harrison's senatorial finance committee and subsequently the whole Senate will take a crack at the proposition, as presented by the House. Ultimately the two branches will come to an agreement and a new law will be enacted.

Naturally, Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau and an assorted lot of economists are doing plenty of advising. President Roosevelt likewise has his ideas. But, in the last analysis, the puzzle's up to Congress.

It'll be a matter of weeks or maybe two or three months before the coming tax schedule is revealed to us definitely. We can depend on one thing confidently, though. From the taxpayers' standpoint, it'll be a sockdolager.

What particularly interests me is the item of income taxation as it'll hit us middle bracket victims. There also will be various excises and imposts, too. Well, we can ration severely soaked already that that classification of extortions. Indeed, that's the economists' aim, which is to prevent inflation by curtailing our buying power.

No Economizing Here
But you can't economize on an income tax.

Not being a plutocrat, I'm not much concerned as to that group's fate. Indeed, I understand that they won't be much hiked. They're so severely soaked already that the government can't greatly boost 'em without taking their all and more, too—more, too, being uncollectable.

The very low outfits hardly are worth bothering with. Either they literally can't pay at all or they can't pay enough to signify.

We middle bracketers are the bunch who'll get hiked. We collectively, are worth sticking. Our exemptions (for dependents, etc.) will be reduced. Our assessments will be shoved up. Dear reader, you doubtless remember what your last income tax was. Next time it'll be at least 50 per cent more, possibly twice what it was, maybe three times!

Yet, according to the economists, what'll happen if Uncle Sam doesn't take steps to keep his mounting indebtedness under control?

Why, his credit will slump. That is, his money won't be worth as much as it has been. In other words, prices will go up to beat the band. It'll be equivalent to a fierce cut in pay. If you're a union laborer you may with considerable difficulty

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1941 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Sunday news and radio commentators get it "right out of the feed box" that when and if the shooting starts there will be a wave of sabotage of industrial and munitions plant all over the country. Some of these "tips" are supposed to have come from the FBI. The story is that a vast spying and wrecking organization has been built up during the last two years; that its conspirators have penetrated defense personnel and are ready to touch off widespread ruin when they get the word.

In this corner, we are inclined to doubt whether the FBI men are as gossipy and garrulous as all this. They are tight-lipped lot, for good reason, and I don't think they're dishing any deep inside to anybody whomsoever. It wouldn't be like them. The alarmist stories refute themselves. Their accounts of the G-men aren't sitting around admiring each other. There is abundant space given to foreign sabotage and our protection against it. But they are calm about it and take great pains not to get anybody unduly excited. Here's a sample of their bits of timely information, under the heading "Sabotage Through Fire."

"Fire as a medium of general sabotage and aimed at the destruction of the national defense program must be considered a very serious possibility. It is not the desire of the FBI to stir up hysteria on the subject, but the situation must be regarded in a calm, business-like way and the existence of the threat should never manifest itself, we must be prepared."

"Arson as committed by the saboteur is more serious, more dangerous and more devastating than the ordinary commercial type of arson which we seek to combat in peace-time. The saboteur is the agent of the foreign government and has at his disposal resources, information and funds far greater in amount than any commercial arsonist."

"One objective of any enemy agent is to stop production, and one possible answer may be sabotage so carefully concealed, so carefully planned, that it does not appear to be sabotage at all. Sabotage by fire is one of the most plausible means of accomplishing this end. Where federal contracts are under way? Vulnerable spots must not only be checked, but also every possible method by which instruments of arson might be brought into the plant must be considered. The arsonist can equip himself with the necessary implements of fire in very compact and easily hidden form."

"In the last war, the favorite method was the use of small incendiary devices composed of two sections filled with chemicals, separated by a thin metal partition. When the latter had been eaten through by chemical action, the substances mixed and a fire resulted. Its starting action was timed accurately hours in advance. The thickness of the partition governed the starting time, which made it especially easy to divert suspicion. The fire would appear to be entirely accidental, since it would occur in the dead of night, when nobody was in the plant."

There you have the "fountain pen" bombs of the last war. Foreign agents did damage of $200,000,000 in factories and munitions plants where we caught up with them. John Edgar Hoover heads brilliant by and effective the best police organization in the world, and it is an organization which has developed and proved many new scientific techniques.

It is foolish to think that these trained specialists haven't been on the job every minute of the day and night, as the sabotage danger came

First Defense Corps Drill Friday Night

Pleased at the unusual response to the first call for volunteers for Company H, 3rd regiment, Pennsylvania Defense Reserve Corps, on last Friday night at New Castle, officers of the company believe the roster will be filled Friday night, May 16, when the first drill will be held.

On Friday night, May 9, 35 men answered the invitation to enroll in this new defense unit, authorized by the General Assembly. From as far north as Jamestown and as far south as Smith's Ferry, from Lawrence county's four corners, from Butler county and many places in Beaver and Mercer counties men responded, ready and willing to have a share in defense unit.

Perhaps not all of them will pass the examination but they displayed their willingness to serve. The company will contain three commissioned officers and 64 enlisted men. No non-commissioned officers have been assigned as yet nor will there be until the roster of 64 is completed.

Service in Company H, 3rd regiment of the PDRC is entirely voluntary.

Men who enlist will serve without pay save when and if the corps is called into service by the governor. The possibilities of service include action where sabotage is suspected, aid to the regular troops when they are in or passing through the district, or traffic duty at a time such as the recent wreck at Baden when the civil authorities could not possibly control the press of traffic.

When the National Guard returns to the state, the reserve corps will be disbanded. Until that time the men of Company H will train each Friday night. Their uniforms, arms and equipment will be furnished by the state.

All men between 21 and 50 who are physically fit and who wish to have a part in this vitally important arm of the government in these times of stress are invited to be at the Joseph V. Cunningham Armory, Cascade Park, New Castle, Pa., Friday night, May 16, on or before 8 o'clock.

Service is open to all men in Lawrence, Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties.

Big Ore Reserve At Cranesville Is Being Moved

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, May 14.—Untouched and almost forgotten since the last great war, 750,000 tons of iron ore, stored in Erie county 25 years ago for emergency needs, has been shipped to Pittsburgh to feed "Big Steel" furnaces, it was learned today.

United States Steel corporation officials pointed out, however, that the move was not based on any shortage of iron ore, but that they had just decided to use up the almost forgotten stockpile. The level of operations never justified drawing upon the pile, corporation officials said.

The huge stock of ore was built in 1916 at Cranesville, along the Bessemer & Lake Erie Railroad, as a war reserve. It was mined in Minnesota and transported across the Great Lakes.

"Big Steel" plants are also building up stocks of manganese ore, officials said.

Change Is Made In Waiting Week Periods For State Compensation

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, May 14 — A change affecting waiting weeks in claims for unemployment compensation has been announced by Lewis G. Hines, secretary, department of labor and industry, to comply with a recent ruling of the Board of Review which makes this new procedure mandatory.

"It has become necessary," said Secretary Hines, "that to comply with the recent ruling of the Board, Section 401 (e) of the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law must be strictly adhered to."

"This section of the law requires that any compensable week shall be preceded by three weeks of waiting within the prior 52 weeks. Previously after a claimant had received all checks for benefits due him in a benefit year he had no further rights and could not file any claims for waiting weeks until after the benefit year had ended."

"Once the claimant had received his first check in the benefit year he was entitled to receive a check for each unemployed week that he was eligible, up to his limit of 13 weeks or less as was shown on his notice of decision, without having to serve any additional week or weeks of waiting, except in case of an industrial dispute."

"Under the new waiting week policy which has been established to conform to the decision referred to, the claimant may, if unemployed and otherwise eligible, file waiting weeks 'during' the benefit year for the week or weeks following the date when he filed his last pay order."

"In other words, the Board of Review decision enlarges the claimant's right to file waiting weeks so that even after he has drawn his thirteenth, or last check, he may, if unemployed, file waiting weeks for as many weeks as he is eligible, and thus save them up for use to support his next benefit year series of checks. In many cases this saving up process will allow claimant to receive check immediately with the beginning of his new benefit year without waiting three weeks because he will have served three weeks in the last part of his previous benefit year.

"The intent of this decision should be understood clearly. It requires that a claimant must have the necessary weeks of waiting within a period of 52 weeks preceding each and every week for which he claims benefits, with this qualification, however; that where a claimant is actually in the process of drawing benefits for consecutive weeks of unemployment, payments begun when he met the requirements shall not be interrupted merely because the claimant, during the continuous period for which he files, ceases to have the required waiting weeks."

"As has been explained, the law provides and the decision of the Board of Review emphasizes, that any compensable week shall be preceded by three weeks of waiting within the prior 52 weeks. Before this decision whenever a claimant appeared at a local office to file a continued claim for a FIRST compensable week, it was determined whether three weeks of waiting had been served within the 52 weeks preceding the first day of the first compensable week. This is a procedure which has been required since 1938."

"Now, when a claimant appears to file a second, third, or subsequent continued claim for compensation, the same rule is applied to each week as was once applied to the first compensable week. This rule is that the claimant shall have served three weeks of waiting within the 52 weeks preceding the first day of each compensable week."

"There may be cases in which the application of this policy will deprive a claimant of a benefit check. This is inescapable. Every rule seems to work a hardship upon a few individuals. For most claimants, however, the new policy will be a decided advantage.

"The application of this policy reflects the desire of the bureau to put into effect the intent of the legislators relating to waiting weeks when they adopted the Pennsylvania Unemployment Compensation Law and with the exception of the inconvenience which it may cause temporarily to a few, will ultimately work to the advantage of all who claim unemployment compensation under the Pennsylvania law."

Receives Thanks For Cigarets Sent To British Army

Miss Ann Hitchen, Of Lyndal Street, Receives Letters From England

In appreciation for cigarettes received sometime ago, by a fund collected here by Miss Ann Hitchen of Lyndal street from eager friends, amounting to the total of $100, she has received a letter from Hrewsburg, Shropshire, from Robert and Sydney L. Goodger of 8 Chestnut avenue, Acton Park, Acton Wrentham, England, and R. Anderson of 21 Bedford Terrace, off Barrack street, Leeds 7, Yorks, Eng., expressing sincere gratitude for the help American friends have given, and saying they are overwhelmed with the gift of cigarettes.

Their letter is accompanied by another one of the Over-Seas Tobacco Fund, which too, includes heartfelt thanks. It reveals it takes three to four weeks for a letter to cross the Atlantic and reveals the gift was safely lodged with the Bankers Trust company of New York, N. Y. and transferred to London, without danger of loss in transit.

The Over-Seas letter said: "What a blessing it was to my men to receive your case of cigarettes. We all thank you, Miss Hitchen, and your subscribers from the bottom of our hearts. Long may you continue your good work." "Since the fund needs the continued co-operation of all good friends, we are venturing to enclose another of our collecting lists—in the hope that other friends of yours might welcome the opportunity of following your own generous example."

The personal letter to Miss Hitchen from the men personally benefited with the gift of cigarettes, quoted "we were pleased to find your address, and my friend and I are very lonely as we have been in the hospital here for weeks; small gifts like these from people so far away, makes one think that we have friends in the farthest corners of the world. Please don't think this is a letter for receiving, but a letter of sincere thanks and deep gratitude." Signed, Robert and Sydney L. Goodger and R. Anderson.

The boys came from County Shropshire, about 75 miles from Liverpool, England, where Miss Hitchen was born. She states she is one of the British War Relief Membership committee and welcomes contributions of anyone desiring to help with this fund. The letter took a month to get here, and was opened and examined before leaving England.

War Production Speed May Hold Peace Or War Fate

(International News Service)
ST. LOUIS, May 14 — The issue of peace or war for the United States may easily depend upon the speed of America's war production within the next six months, Vice President Henry A. Wallace on Tuesday warned the convention of the National Association of Broadcasters.

Radio has an especially deep interest in the freedom of discussion which permeates the very spirit of democracy," the vice president declared. He was unable to appear in person before the convention and his remarks were broadcast from Washington, D. C.

After commending radio for its varied activities in many fields, including the creation of a cultural bridge in the Americas, Wallace said: "I hope to see the radio more and more reflecting the unbeatable spirit which is America in such a way as to make us genuinely proud of our defense effort and eager to go ahead producing with every atom of our strength."

"Many of our big defense projects are ahead of schedule. The speed of our production, the magnitude of our defense effort during the next six months may easily make the entire difference between peace and war for the United States."

"The radio listening audience demands of the broadcasters a great responsibility. We must defend the spirit of America in our own words and actions against the poisonous influences that are attacking us day by day."

Maternal deaths—those caused through childbearing—are being reduced.

There are 9,000 such deaths out of 1,250,000 live births annually.

A few years ago there were 16,000 maternal deaths each year.

Infections are the chief causes of death in childbirth.

Also there are intoxications, known as toxemia.

Third cause is hemorrhage and shock.

Education of prospective mothers is a most vital need.

Certain symptoms are warnings during the period before birth.

Severe continuous headache and dullness or blurring of vision.

Swelling of the face and fingers, and pain in the abdomen.

Persistent vomiting and chills and fever are warning signals.

All such symptoms should be promptly related to the doctor.

GROUP TO MEETPlans For Annual Observance
Will Be Furthered At Meeting Thursday Evening

With only two more weeks remaining in which to complete plans for the annual celebration of Memorial Day, the general committee in charge of arrangements will meet on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the Legion Home, when plans for the observance will be furthered. Chairman C. Ed. Brown announced today.

Arrangements for the event are fairly well completed, it is stated, and a general check-up on the various plans will be reported on by the committee chairman at this meeting.

The observance will follow the general plan which has been carried out here in past years, but this year will find many changes, no more Civil War veterans remaining to grace the occasion with their presence, and the local National Guard units will also be absent, being now in training camp.

However, it is expected that the services will attract a large number.

'Our Sun Rising,'
Engineers Told
By Goodyear Man

America's sun is rising in a war-torn world and will keep on rising higher and higher, Arthur C. Horrocks, eloquent public relations counsel of Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., told the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers' society at a dinner in The Castleton last night.

Horrocks said all democracy, which stands for everything Hitler is against, is on the rise.

The speaker, rated by those who heard him, as the best the society has engaged, had "Goodyear Shoulders Arms" for his topic, but he spent little time on his own concern. He went back in history and drew stories from the past. He frankly discussed the present world crisis.

The United States, Horrocks asserted at one point, now is and must remain the leader of the world. He said few realize the great role this nation will play in years to come.

President Joseph B. Lasky presided and introduced the speaker. Horrocks is a nation-wide traveler, and within a few days will be speaking in Texas. He came here from the Pacific coast.

The society plans to hold its annual picnic during the vacation months, Lasky said, but no date has been decided.

FIRST CHRISTIAN IS
SCENE OF BANQUET

An overwhelming success in every way, was the Mothers-Daughters banquet held Tuesday evening, by members of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Christian church, in the church dining room, the event attracting well over a hundred guests.

The room took on an air of a flower garden, with a profusion of choice blooms being used in clever arrangements, and marking each "Mothers" place with a novel telephone card filled slipper, while at the "Daughters" places, were found miniatures of the same, tied with pastel ribbons, given as favors.

At 6 o'clock, a delicious dinner was served by the Junior Deacons of the church, in a most efficient and capable manner, the menu being prepared by Mrs. C. Bowman, Miss Mary Williams, Mrs. Viola Linsley, Mrs. Margaret Clark and Mrs. Roy Waite. They, with Mrs. C. M. England, general chairman, and others who aided, are due much credit for the complete success of the occasion.

Entertainment ensued, with Mrs. Esther Eakin, president of the society, announcing the program. The harmonica selections were offered by Margaret Lenhart, with Margaret Hess, playing piano accompaniment. An original "Picturelogue" showing members of the organization in posed living pictures, of "Mother and Daughter" from the time of infancy, the child growing to attend school and graduate from high school. In closing, was shown the four generations of the Mrs. William W. Perry family of Greenwood avenue, who was posed with her daughter, Mrs. J. Clarence Miller of 415 Leasure avenue, granddaughter, Mrs. Joe Wagner of North Mercer street, and her daughter, Marilyn.

The assemblage tapered off the evening, by attending the formal piano and organ recital in the church parlors, given by Mrs. Kathryn Nessler Allen.

This undertaking further emphasized the continued progress of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Christian church, adding another "red letter" event to their calendar of social activities.

MR. AND MRS. H. M. ALLEN
HAVE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Allen of 805 Chestnut street quietly observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Tuesday. They spent the day in their home, receiving the congratulations of neighbors and friends, and last evening were guests at a family dinner held in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Chester P. Reynolds, on Garfield avenue, where covers were laid for 12. They were presented with a purse of money by their children and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen were married at Titusville, Pa., May 13, 1891, coming to New Castle nine years later, and have lived in their present home for almost 40 years.

Eight children were born to them, four of whom died in early childhood. Their present family consists of Mrs. Chester P. Reynolds, Charles E. Allen and Kenneth W. Allen of this city and Harry L. Allen of Clairton, Pa., all of whom, with their families, were present for the gathering last evening.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Allen are enjoying comparatively good health. Mr. Allen is a brickmason, and is still active in his trade here.

During the day they received a number of cards and telegrams of congratulation from friends and neighbors.

Of the 30 guests present at their wedding, only six now survive, four of whom are members of their two immediate families.

Claret Club Meets
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Maciarelo of South Mill street were hosts Tuesday evening when members of the Claret club gathered in their home, South Mill street.

Plans are being made for a social event on May 23 in the Casa Savoia hall, South Mill street, with Thomas Fazzone in charge. Card playing was the diversion, high score prizes going to Mrs. Rose Vitale and Louis Cherol.

The birthday of Frank Maciarelo was honored and he received a handsome gift. Special guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards.

A birthday lunch was served later in the evening by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Frank Maciarelo.

Tent Caterpillar Nests Should Be Destroyed Now

State Urges That Residents Join Battle On Pest Infesting State

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, May 14.—Webs of tent caterpillars on fruit and forest trees are beginning to make their appearance in some sections of Pennsylvania. W. E. Montgomery, chief of the division of management in the Department of Forests and Waters, said today.

Montgomery asserted that wherever the pests are producing these unsightly nests, eradication methods should be employed immediately. The webs appear in the crochets of trees about the time the leaves unfold and the caterpillars work out from the nests devouring the foliage as it develops. The worms eat ravenously and when abundant completely defoliate the trees. They show a decided preference to the wild cherry and apple but also feed on other fruit trees and on a number of common hardwood trees. About two months after the eggs are hatched, which usually occurs in early May, the caterpillars become light brown moths. The female moths lay masses of eggs on the branches of the trees in early summer.

The nests should be destroyed as soon as they appear. This is successfully accomplished by fastening a brush, dipped in kerosene, to the end of a long pole and burning out the webs. However, care should be exercised and the flame should not be held at one place too long as to injure the bark of the tree. Eradication of worthless wild cherry and apple trees will also lessen the infestation. Spraying with arsenate of lead in proportion of about four pounds to the poison to 100 gallons of water will exterminate the worms and when this is done, it is usually unnecessary to take any other precautions. The spraying should be done in the spring as soon as the webs are noticed.

Of course there is waste and confusion. Try doing seven years work in one and see if you don't make a mess.

Today's Lesson in Flag Etiquette

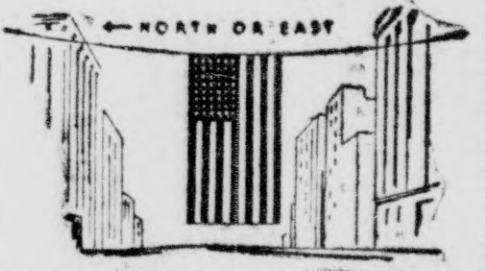

● When displayed with a group of other flags, the American flag should be at the center or at the highest point of the group.

● When displayed on a staff projecting from a building, the field of blue should go clear to the peak of the staff unless the flag is being flown at half-staff.

● Never display the American flag with the union down except as a signal of distress.

● When displayed over a street between two buildings, the American flag should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street, or to the east in a north and south street.

● When used in connection with the unveiling of a statue or monument, the flag should be prominently featured but should never be used as a covering for a statue.

This is the third of a series of five lessons in "Flag Etiquette" as approved by the National Department of Americanism, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, offered to the readers of The News as a timely patriotic feature designed to stimulate proper observance of National Flag Code regulations.

culty, by loud hollering, possibly supplemented by strikes and picketing, force wage advances, but it's doubtful if they'll keep pace with soaring living costs. And there are a lot of us, on fixed, moderate incomes, who simply will be in the unqualified soup. It looks as if terrifically increased taxes alone will semi-save our economic lives.

They say the situation in England's a damned sight worse. I don't know about England, but I do know something about Canada.

Canada Stiff, Too

Here in Washington we have, among others, a Canadian newspaperman who has been here six months, reporting to his home daily as to our aid-Britain activities. The other day it came time for him to make his income tax return back to Winnipeg. He made it. Shortly he got a reply, "O. K.," said the Winnipeg collector, "as to the last six months you spent in Canada. That money I want. But, for the six months you've spent in the United States, you owe Uncle Sam."

By that time it was away late for my acquaintance to have made his return to the Yankee collector. Hastening to the internal revenue bureau, he admitted his dereliction and explained how it had occurred. "Do I have to go to jail?" he asked.

"No," replied the revenue agent, "since it was unintentional. All you have to do is to add a 25 per cent penalty to your return."

"At that," the Canuck told me, "I'm a lot better off under your Yankee rate, plus the 25 per cent penalty, than I'd have been under the flat, unpunished Canadian rate."

school rooms do not have trapdoors so one could disappear from these awful fears. "I have more of these fears with some teachers than others." "I feel as if I stand and talk my legs are moving away from me and I lose my voice." "I feel my legs won't hold me up." "I feel there is nothing between my shoulders and my hips." "I feel a bone is sticking in my throat." "My heart pounds like a Model T Ford." "My voice scares me for it doesn't sound like mine." "My hands sweat and chills run up my back." "After I sit down I feel all worn out." "After I sit down I wonder how many can hear my heart beat." "My ears roar." "I feel my stomach has dropped down to my knees." "My face and neck get hot, and then I feel more scared."

Almost everyone has had at least one of these sensations and it should be some consolation to know that it is a usual human weakness.

neer. If you don't believe it, just try strolling casually around any shipyard or plant where defense work is going on. A friend of mine, visiting a freighter in Baltimore which was being loaded with nitrates, said he had to show credence to get Al Capone into the Union League Club before he could get within a mile of the ship.

The commission said that inter-coastal ship operators conferred in New York Tuesday, and that they had been asked to consider giving up forty ships of the total of 108 vessels in the trade.

Meanwhile, officials of six Great Lakes shipbuilding companies were invited to confer at the commission to determine to what extent Great Lakes facilities can be utilized in furthering the nation's emergency shipbuilding program.

Main subject of discussion, it was said, will be the question of the feasibility of building ocean-going cargo vessels not exceeding 450 feet in length, and taking them through the Illinois drainage canal and the Mississippi river into the Gulf of Mexico.

Maritime Commission spokesmen point out that ships not exceeding 250 feet in length can be built on Great Lakes ways and be taken out through the Welland canal and the St. Lawrence river.

North Beaver

Miss Jean Clarke who has been ill for some time is a little improved at this time.

Mrs. Charles Bentfield and son, of Petersburg road, called on Mrs. Goughier Saturday.

John Bruce Thompson student at Muskingum college spent the week end with his parents.

Nancy Robinson, student at Slippery Rock college, spent the week-end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shaffer of Sharon, visited with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holland Shaffer.

The Queen Esther Sunday school class will hold a party Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Alice Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney McKinney motored to Franklin, Pa., Sunday and spent the day with the former's mother.

Mrs. Howard Kerr and family motored to Niles, O., Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Melotte and daughter Dorothy.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson and family of Bessemer called on the former's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Harmon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Moore, and son, of Beaver have returned to their home after spending the past week with the latter's parents here.

Hints On Etiquette

Half Intercoastal Trade Ships May Go To Aid British

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The Maritime Commission revealed Tuesday it had requested owners of ships in the American Intercoastal trade to consider giving up almost one half their tonnage to meet President Roosevelt's request that 2,000-000 tons of shipping be gathered for British aid.

British Pilots May Be Trained In United States

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 14.—British combat pilots will be trained in the United States under "a vast program" to strengthen Great Britain's air defenses against Nazi onslaught, it was revealed today.

Informal sources reported that the English pilots would be trained by Americans at six air fields in this country—in Georgia, Florida, California, Oklahoma, and Texas.

It was understood the training program still is in the stages of planning, and no definite date for its start has been set. Authoritative quarters stated the training activities are just part of a planned program to aid England in combatting German air attacks.

Informal observers added that training of British pilots in this country would take a heavy load off English air fields and allow them to be made available for aircraft used in actual combat.

The annual mothers and daughters banquet for Union Township High school, will be held tonight in the high school auditorium, Scotland Lane.

The program is scheduled to get under way promptly at 6:30 o'clock. The dinner will be served by the school P.T.A.

On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright, 1941, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BEST SOLID FOODS IN WHICH TO START OUT THE BABY

Second of a series on the normal progress of the child in the first year.

By the time the child reaches his first birthday, he should have passed the breast-feeding and bottle stage and should be learning to hold his cup of milk and perhaps hold a teaspoon, as he sits up to eat.

This is the time to prevent him from becoming a food faddist. Too many adults are fussy about their fare. The new generation ought to be better trained, and the time to begin is in the high chair.

It can be assumed that the child will eat with pleasure any food he is introduced to it properly. Use salesmanship! For example, as each new food is introduced, the mother can take a bit herself, smack her lips and express delight. The child will emulate her and smack his lips with equal satisfaction. Similarly, he will acquire food dislikes by imitation of elders.

In his 12th month he may have added to his diet such things as scraped beef, cream cheese, bacon, scrambled egg. Besides these he may be getting such things as banana, apple sauce, mashed potatoes, strained vegetables, cooked oatmeal, chopped liver, bread or perhaps hard crackers, apple, orange juice, tomato juice, honey, milk and of course, cod liver oil.

The best way to prepare his first beef is to take a small piece of the meat, scrape it with a spoon or a knife, pat these scrapings into a little cake, and brown them in a dry hot pan. Then add a little water to the pan and cook the patty for about five minutes longer. A tablespoon of this at his dinner is enough in the beginning.

The scrambled egg, if properly prepared, will become one of his favorite foods. Here's the way I like my scrambled eggs, and it is the best way to prepare them for the baby:

Beat up the egg with two tablespoons of milk, a pinch of salt

Alice Faye And Phil Harris Are Married In Mexico

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, May 14 — Alice Faye, popular blonde film actress, and Phil Harris, the band leader, were honeymooning Tuesday in Hollywood following their marriage in Mexico.

They climaxed a two-month romance by flying to Ensenada late Monday, accompanied by Sam Maschio, of Texas, and Eddie Macharg, Harris' business manager. The ceremony was performed by Judge Jaime Pardo.

On May 5, when she celebrated her 26th birthday, Miss Faye, former wife of Radio Singer Tony Martin, announced her engagement to Harris, but their friends did not expect a wedding until September, when Harris' divorce from Marcia Ralston, Australian actress, becomes final.

Before Harris and his bride left Ensenada to return to the film colony, they said they planned to re-marry in California after Harris receives his final divorce decree.

AROUND CITY HALL

With frost having killed many plants during the past several nights and a desire on the part of many who like to grow a garden, Paul Marakas, the D. T. M., or Delinquent Tax Man of city hall today "popped" into the fore with an announcement that in a desire to realize some taxes as rent for the city he is willing to "lease out" about three score lots at a small cost in the Seventh ward for gardening. The lots are adapted for gardening and are in the LaFayette Street-P. & L. E. R. vicinity.

Safety Director D. O. Davies today stated that he intends to enforce the law regarding condemned structures. On many occasions, he asserted, city council has decided that buildings were fire menaces, insanitary and in fact, a nuisance to the public and orders for their removal have been issued. However, owners or reputed owners, in some instances, have failed to obey the instructions. In the future the city may demolish the buildings, level off the ground and charge the cost to the owner.

None of the summer plants have yet been transplanted at Cascade Park which apparently has been good judgment on the part of Gardner Michael Ross, frost having played havoc with some plants set out in yards.

William Alexander, Cascade Park forestry crew member is improving slowly in the New Castle hospital. A tree limb fell on the rear of his head causing a concussion which is now clearing.

And now that the city is getting a city law imposing a severe fine on persons for tossing garbage, rubbish, cans and whatnot into streets, alleys and elsewhere, it might not be a bad idea to use the "teeth" in the ordinance to stop it. Almost every summer unsightly spots are caused by such vandals.

Lewis Threatens To Call Another Coal Strike

Southern Wage Parley Drifting

Lewis Seeking To Force Decision By End Of Present Week

SAYS CONFERENCE ISSUES ARE CLEAR

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 14.—John L. Lewis, president of the CIO's United Mine Workers, today threatened to call a general strike of 400,000 soft coal miners in the Appalachian area, both north and south unless southern mine operators come to a wage agreement with the union by the end of this week.

"The threat to tie up the bituminous coal industry, coming only two weeks after the month-long shutdown in the nation's soft coal mines, was made following a new deadlock in negotiations between the UMW and the southern operators. Lewis was emphatic in saying that the miners would not tolerate further stalling.

Issues Clear
"The issues before this conference are clearly drawn, are fully understood by all the negotiators, and it will be idle and futile to continue to waste time in discussion of these matters beyond the current week," the CIO chief said.

"In consequence, the negotiations this week may run into the question of continuing conversations or suspending operations in the entire Appalachian area after next Tuesday," Lewis said. "We are not impressed with the progress of this conference and we have no desire to continue this uncertainty in the industry."

A meeting of the union's general policy committee has been called for Monday to consider the question of stoppage throughout the Appalachian area, which produces 70 per cent of the country's soft coal. The last work stoppage in the pits in April greatly hampered national defense production, especially in the steel industry.

The principal question at issue between the southern operators and the UMW is the union's demand for the elimination of the 40-cent differential now existing between northern and southern mines. Other questions include readjustment of working conditions and vacations with pay.

Senate Approves Dream Highway Extension West

HARRISBURG, May 14.—By an overwhelming 44 to 4 vote, the Senate passed today the McGinnis bill to authorize the Pennsylvania Turnpike commission to extend the "dream highway" west to the Ohio state line.

The measure went to the House for concurrence. It does not fix a date for beginning or completing the extension. It does not compel the commission to build an extension. Nor does it suggest any route an extension should take.

In effect, the measure expresses Senate satisfaction with job done on the initial stretch and hopes the commission sees fit to build the highway state-wide from Philadelphia to Ohio.

Extension of the super-road from Harrisburg to Philadelphia was authorized two years ago and preliminary surveys to determine a route have begun.

CHANGE HOURS FOR LIBRARY BRANCHES

During and after the week beginning May 26, the opening days of the East Side and South Side branches of the public library will be changed.

Eliminate Tent
Caterpillars Is Fox's Warning

If lovers of trees would spare a few minutes of their time, and watch the depredations, brought by tent caterpillars, they would be moved to prompt action to eliminate these pests while they are within the covering of their whitened tents.

Owen Fox states that right now they are moving out of this protection, and have started to feed upon the tender leaves, first of the wild cherry, then the apple, butternut and mulberry. He has observed that these caterpillars attack the more tender leaves at the top of the young trees, stripping them, then working downwards to the stronger leaves, as the worms grow stronger. When these pests leave their tents, it impresses us of being like a marching army going forth to destroy.

If bird lovers who feed the wild birds throughout the winter, who have a little hard feeling toward the lowly sparrow, could see the splendid work these little fellows do, in breaking up the ranks of these caterpillars, Mr. Fox states, they would not begrudge these birds the little feed they take from the winter feed houses. It is a blessing that we have this standing army of sparrow life with us all year, as only close observers can appreciate the good work this bird is doing in our behalf.

Registration Clerk
Removed At Mercer

(Special To The News)
MERCER, May 14.—Mercer county commissioners today announced the dismissal of Frank McCann as chief clerk of the county registration commission.

In a letter of dismissal to McCann, the commissioners stated that the removal was "in the interest of economy" and part of a reorganization move.

"This reorganization is to take place in the interest of economy," the commissioners stated in the letter. "Your expenses in the department are out of proportion with other counties of this class. In addition thereto, we feel we will obtain the necessary co-operation in the department."

McCann's dismissal is to be effective Thursday, May 15. The commissioners said that Miss Caroline Armstrong will be in charge of the registration and election commission until the reorganization is completed.

The commission said also that there will be "a change of personnel in the department."

McCann has held the post as chief clerk since the permanent registration commission was established in 1935.

Feller Pitches Indians To Win

Rapid Robert Strings Up
Sixth Win Of Year, By Defeating Yanks,
White Sox Win

PIRATES FINALLY END LOSING STREAK

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, May 14.—At 22, Bob Feller is in a class by himself as a pitcher. He stands head and shoulders above the pack. And so good a judge as Joe McCarthy, boss of the Yanks, said today that only time stands between the young Iowa plough jockey and a niche in the baseball hall of fame.

"He can't miss taking his place alongside Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson and Pete Alexander," said McCarthy. "He's got everything. Youth and strength and speed and curves and heart and head. And now he's learned how to pitch. How can he miss with that equipment?"

May Win Thirty
No American leaguer will be surprised if the youngster hangs up 30 victories this year, a feat not accomplished since Dizzy Dean turned the trick for the Cardinals back in 1934.

Bob notched his sixth victory of the still young campaign yesterday when he rode in, 2 to 1, on Lou Boudreau's homer off Marius Russo in the tenth inning. Through that stretch he gave the Indians only six hits and struck out nine and would not have been scored on had he not made a wild throw to first base.

That victory tightened the Indians' hold on first place for the White Sox turned back the Red Sox, 3-2. Johnny Rigney held the Red Sox to four hits, half of which were homers by Jimmy Foxx and Ted Williams.

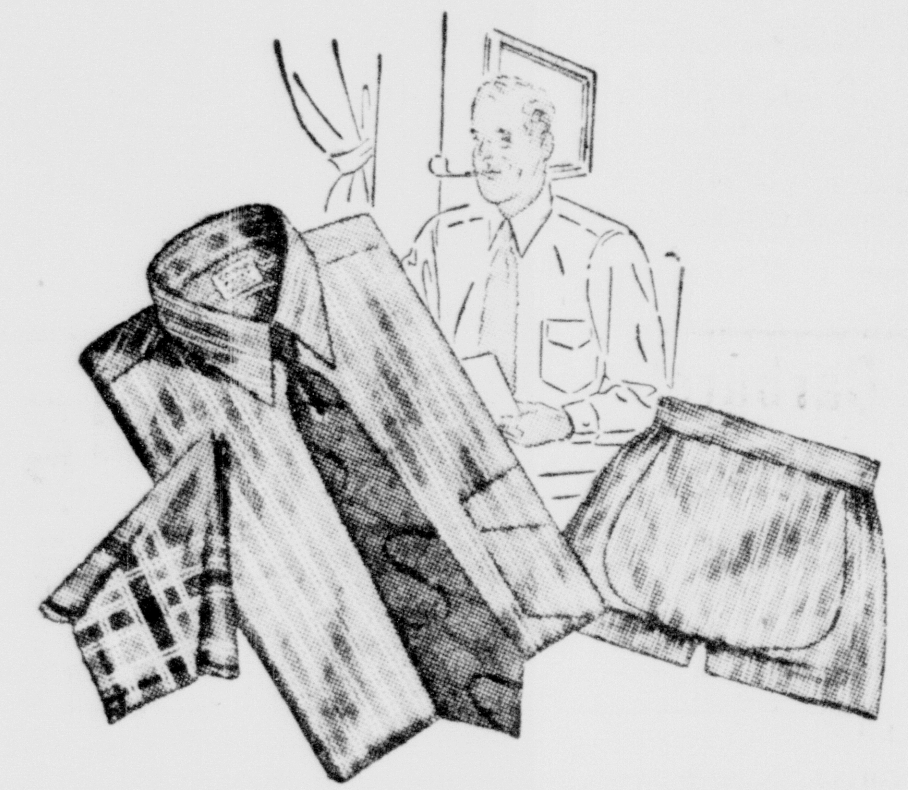

Tip Radcliff's homer off Jack Knott was the only damaging blow the Browns struck as they blew one to the Athletics, 7-3. Those who picked the Browns to finish in the first division this year have begun to realize the team is going nowhere unless it can dig up some pitchers.

Newsom Blasted
Only last fall Buck Newsom, the talkative Tiger, was a pitching hero in the world series. Now he can't seem to get going. He was knocked out of the box again yesterday as Sid Hudson held the Tigers to three hits to score a 3-4 decision for the Senators.

And over in the other circuit the world champion Reds are still floundering around behind a long-continued and mysterious slump in hitting. Today they are 9½ games behind the pace-setting Dodgers and if they don't brace up in a hurry they will soon be out of the race.

They made only six hits off Hugh Casey, the big Dodger right hander, yesterday as they dropped a 4-3 verdict behind their ace, Bucky Walters.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Billy Marquart, a Winnipeg lightweight who usually pleases with his style and punch, scored a technical kayo over Al Roth of New York at the beginning of the seventh round of their eight-round bout in New York last night. In a previous encounter Roth had won. Roth wilted under a terrific body attack and complained of a rib injury at the end of the sixth round. Following an examination the boxing commission physician ordered the bout stopped. One of the fights coming up will find Billy Marquart opposed to Sammy Angott, former Wash. Pa. amateur who holds the National Boxing association crown. They battle Monday night in Cleveland.

Paul Moss, manager of Billy Soose, is going to get a hearing before the Pennsylvania Athletic commission, in Philadelphia, May 21. A Pittsburgh newspaper quoted Moss after Soose won from Ken Overlin as saying Soose was officially and unofficially attempted to retard the progress of the former Penn State boxer. Boyle put the matter before the commission of which he is a member and asserted that Moss would be given every opportunity to substantiate the charges that "I have acted to the detriment of Soose and that I have officially favored Billy Conn and his manager, Johnny Ray."

Baseball's Big Six: Cronin, Red Sox 19 games, 412; Travis, Senators, 19 games, 411; Jurgens, Giants, 24 games, 395; Seibert, Athletics, 24 games, 387; Slaughter, Cards, 24 games, 384 and Vaughn, Pirates, 18 games, 366. More than 1,000 entries have been registered for the qualifying play in the National Open. Ahem! Promoter Mike Jacobs considers Pittsburgh, Washington or Scranton as the site for the return bout between Billy Soose and Ken Overlin. Bob Feller, Cleveland's ace, hopes to hang up 30 victories this season. New York will recognize the Chalky Wright vs Joey Archibald fight as a featherweight championship scrap.

National Boxing association mid-weights, Champion Tony Zale and Al Hostak have signed for a 15-round fight in Chicago, May 28, just two days after Russell Baxter and Lester Leasure, New Castle amateur mid-weights fight for the amateur championship of Lawrence county in The Arena, this city. Both are in training and the police hope to realize sufficient money to buy themselves new uniforms. The blue-coats are now paging the fight fans for support.

One of the neatest pieces of exploitation was the Kentucky Derby. It was in charge of Frank Menke, for two score years on of the most brilliant of sport writers. In handling the publicity for Col. Matt Winn Menke left nothing to be desired by those in charge of sport sheets. Decades ago he aided in various ways such local ring celebrities as the late Jimmie Dime, George Chlp Tom McMahon, Patsy Brannigan and Battling Terry. He typed many features which circulated through the syndicates with which he was connected. It might be added the Derby this year attracted a crowd which broke past marks. Here, hoping "F. M." is at the exploitation helm again in '42.

College Results: Grove City beat Allegheny in tennis, 6-3 and tied in track with Carnegie Tech, 63-63. In golf, the Groves beat Duquesne 17-1. St. Vincent lost to Fairleigh State in baseball, 4-3 and West Virginia downed Salem on the diamond, 8-2. Butler high won from Duquesne high in track and field 91 1-3—33 1-2 and Etina vaquished Zellenople in baseball, 18-0.

HERMAN PACKS

LOTS OF POWER
BROOKLYN—In grabbing Billy Herman to fill a gap at second, the Brooklyn Dodgers succeeded in acquiring one of the game's best infielders.

An experienced hand, blessed with steadiness and coolness, Herman is sure to supply the missing element in the Dodgers' infield combo. In 1940, Herman, with the Cubs, batted .292, but figures to join the .300 circle.

Sports organ melody:

Strictly on the "q. t.": Frank "Tarzan" Crispien may drift back into professional football this fall. The ex-"Hurricane" and Western Reserve star lineman has been offered a contract by the Detroit Lions. When "Bill" Edwards quit Reserve for the Detroit coaching post, he didn't forget the locale, one of his prize gridsmen.

Crispien, now a traveling salesman (groceries), is undecided as to whether or not to accept the call. Since the pigskin parade is a few blocks away, the Nagurski-like athlete plans to arrive at a decision before the play-for-pay boys hit to camp. After finishing at Reserve, Crispien joined the Chicago Bears for a brief spell.

It may and may not interest you to know that Sam Nahem, the current whiz of the St. Louis Cardinals, is of Syrian extraction. The twirler is a licensed lawyer in New York state and owns two victories over his fabled Bucaroos. There's a Joe DiMaggio in the N. Y. lineup. He even plays the outfield!

Sailor Bill Posedel of the Boston Braves has not dropped a game on the seventh of any month since May of 1939! The Boston Braves have handed the Phillies five setbacks so far. And our poor Pittsburgh Pirates have dropped four ninth-inning heart breakers, all in a little over a week, recently.

Dom DiMaggio is on his way to swiping George Case's base stealing title. The Red Sox fly shagger has pilfered a half dozen sacks. No wonder the Dodgers are on top. The Brooklynites have clubbed 23 homers as of yesterday. Len Waneke defeated 292, but figures to join the .300 circle.

SIDE SLIDE—Something new in slides is tried by Ival Goodman of the Cincy Reds during a game in New York. Goodman was hurt.

Golf Developing Into Fans' Game

Game Making Great Strides As Spectators' Game, Pro
Cooper Says

ST. LOUIS—Golf is making great strides as a spectators' sport. "Light-horse" Harry Cooper, noted golf professional, recently opined during an exhibition in the Missouri city.

"For the final day of the Masters tournament in Augusta, Ga.," he declared, "they parked about 6,000 automobiles. That means there was a crowd of between 10,000 and 15,000 on the course that day."

Cooper claims that one of the big drawbacks to the game as an attraction for spectators is the fact that so much walking is required to follow a match.

While most followers of sports prefer the grandstand to walking events, Cooper believes this reluctance to walk is being overcome.

Park Lake May Be Stocked With Fish

Sportsmen's Association To Ask Commission To Stock Cascade Park Lake

There is a strong possibility that Cascade Park Lake may be stocked with fish within a short time.

During Tuesday evening's monthly meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, held in the Veterans of Foreign War hall, East Washington street, the organization discussed possibilities of stocking the lake.

Clint "Rosy" White, local fish warden, commended the organization for such a fine idea. He named several kinds of fish which can exist in a lake similar to that at the park.

A resolution was drawn up whereby the sportsmen will ask the Pennsylvania Fish commission to stock the lake.

James P. Allen was named as treasurer, succeeding Bert Rick who resigned recently.

It was decided to dispense with meetings during June and July. The next event will be a gigantic corn roast at the New Castle fair grounds. The date will be announced later.

Announcement was also made that a shipment of fish will arrive at the new castle post office on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. The shipment will be used to replenish Shenango river.

Lawrence Indies Grab First Win

Behind the steady fine five-hit pitching of Monk Rainey, the Lawrence Indies, 1940 champions, began their 1941 quest in defense of their title at West Pittsburg last night, winning over the "Gas House" gang, 6 to 1.

STOCKS

Market Tone Is Moderate Today

Few Issues Buck Trend For Small Gains, Losses Are Very Slight On Easing

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 14.—The stock market eased moderately today as light selling was carried over from the previous close. Losses were small, however, and a few issues bucked the trend for modest gains.

Rails duplicated their slide of yesterday afternoon. Union Pacific and Chesapeake & Ohio each dropped a point, the latter reaching a new low for the year. Santa Fe fell about as much, while N. Y. Central and Pennsylvania gave up fractions.

Bethlehem, which broke more than two points on a Tuesday's close, regained a fraction on a today opening. Its first sale was made around 11:30 o'clock. U. S. Steel was barely changed, along with Crucible and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Oils, except for Standard of N. J., aviation, utilities, motors and most coppers were somewhat easier. Chemicals and electrical equipments were mixed. Rubbers gained a little ground.

Plane Crash Due
To Lack Of Gas

Such Is Report Of U. S. Civil Aeronautics Board In Waynesburg Probe

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—
The airplane crash near Waynesburg last August which cost two lives was caused by the pilot's failure to refuel after an extended cross-country flight, the Civil Aeronautics Board has concluded after a protracted investigation.

Solo Pilot William E. Alley and private pilot Carl B. Scriber were fatally injured in the mishap. They took off from the Waynesburg airport, flew first to Butler, thence to Washington, Pa., and then back to Waynesburg. After a short lapse of time they again took off, and a few moments crashed five miles south of Waynesburg while trying to glide to a forced landing.

The Civil Aeronautics Board reported today that according to its investigators, the gas tank of the plane was filled prior to the first departure from Waynesburg and was not again filled. The capacity was 12 gallons. The probable rate of consumption of the engine was more than three gallons per hour.
The Board concluded the cause of the crash was "neglect of pilot to refuel after an extended cross-country flight, which caused engine stoppage."

Cash Income Of Farmers Higher

Increases Reported For State
Farmers Last Year By Government Reports

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14.—
Cash income of Pennsylvania farmers from sale of livestock and products increased in most categories last year, according to preliminary figures released by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Such income from sale of dairy products rose sharply from $95-273,000 in 1939 to $104,249,000 in 1940. Income from sale of cattle, calves, beef and veal climbed from $26,056,000 to $29,054,000, although receipts from marketings of hogs, pork, and lard declined from $9,295-000 to $8,275,000. There was also a decrease from $15,282,000 to $13-684,000 in income from chicken sales.

Income from other sales gained as follows: wool, from $710,000 to $879-000; sheep, lambs, mutton, and lamb, from $1,098,000 to $1,096,000; turkey sales, from $2,763,000 to $3,236,000;
chicken eggs, from $32,718,000 to $33,410,000.

SCHWEINBERG GETS
NEWS AT ARMY CAMP

Just how much local soldiers, who are away at camp, appreciate getting The News, which keeps them informed of everything that is going on back home, is shown by a letter
Howard Schweinberg, of 1049
Adams street, has received from his son, Gene Schweinberg, a private in Co. C, 105th Infantry Battalion,
Fort Meade, Md.

Gene in his letter says "Just received the first copy of The News.
It sure is good to be able to read the news from back home again."

Plans for the activities of the organization during the spring reunion, together with other activities, will be discussed.

Food for thought. The South won most of the early battles. You see, its armies were officered by West
Pointers, while the Union officers, at first, were politicians.
